In Western Wayne County

Resident may be key to illegal firearm ring

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Federal and local law enforcement agents believe a 25-year-old Romulus man arrested last week is the key figure in an illegal firearms trafficking ring in Western Wayne County.

The man, whom authorities decline to identify, was arrested and charged with felonious assault of a "local resident" and is being held in Wayne County Jail awaiting release on $25,000 bond and examination later this month.

Agents from the U.S. Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) contend that the man is the head of a widespread burglary ring which steals firearms, in particular, and sells them on the streets.

The ATF, Sheriff's Department and local police departments said they have had the man under surveillance since last August and made several undercover buys of stolen rifles from him.

In an exclusive interview with The Romulus Roman, four special agents from the ATF's Detroit office and two Wayne County Sheriff's Department detectives said investigations still are in progress on at least two "associates" of the Romulus man, forcing the officials to withhold identification of the man to avoid jeopardizing the investigation.

Gerald C. Benedict, ATF assistant special agent in charge of the Detroit bureau, and John Hix, the agent who is supervising the investigation, said the firearms-selling ring is expected to be broken "in the very near future."

They added that the arrested Romulus man, who police say is a fugitive from a Maine prison, has admitted to committing 90 burglaries in Western Wayne County since August.

They anticipate charging him with the firearms charge when the remainder of the investigation is concluded.

Selling stolen firearms is a federal offense, which brought the ATF into the case.

The agents and detectives said the burglary ring has operated extensively in Romulus, Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Canton Township and Washtenaw County since August. They estimate that from 150 to 200 breakins have been pulled by the group so far.

The officers added that the group employs the help of juveniles in committing its burglaries.

The agents called the Romulus man a "big time dealer" of illegal firearms and the eventual snapping of his ring a "big dent in gun trafficking."

"He's not the biggest, but he's certainly contributing significantly to illegal firearms traffic in the country," Benedict said.

Benedict estimated the Romulus man has stolen and sold "about 50-100 guns."

The detectives said a search of the suspect's Romulus home after his arrest on the assault charge netted only a stolen television. They added that they do not know where the group stores the stolen firearms.

The detectives said the man also is facing charges in Wayne for carrying a concealed weapon. Benedict estimated that ATF agents are working on "probably 50 other firearms - selling cases in the Detroit area."

City will fight crime; Purchases engraver

Law enforcement officials say burglary is on the rise in the Detroit suburbs, even though Romulus boasts a slight drop from a year ago.

Nonetheless, Mayor Terry L. Troutt said he is going to ask City Council to purchase a small electric engraver to engrave residents social security numbers on personal goods in an effort to help police in returning stolen merchandise.

Most police agencies endorse the use of the small engravers, which inscribe permanently a person's identification on televisions, stereos, cameras and other items.

Troutt added that if the engraver is purchased, citizens will be able to bring items to City Hall to be engraved free of charge.

Railroad backs down City's stand affects decision

By DALE GOWING
Of The Eagle Staff

Norfolk and Western (N&W) Railroad officials apparently didn't realize what they were getting into when they announced intentions to permanently close a Romulus train crossing to automobile traffic.

The loud objections voiced by residents in the area of the crossing and a subsequent resolution passed by the Romulus City Council, opposing the closing, appears to have caused N&W to back off on its plans and possibly abandon them altogether.

Ironically, the opinions of the city are only that and cannot stop N&W from closing the crossing at Romaine Street between Perry Street and Goddard Road.

If the railroad so desired, it could petition the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) for a hearing on the matter and possibly gain its approval to close the crossing.

But N&W Division Engineer Robert Bauder said the railroad "has no intentions" of going to the MPSC and might abandon its efforts to close the crossing, if the city maintains its position.

"If we encounter a lot of resistance in cases like this we try to point out to the people our reasoning and logic for wanting to close a crossing," Bauder added. "But if the resistance remains, we normally don't pursue it. We have no intentions of going to the MPSC because they wouldn't order the closing, if the city was up in arms."

'We have no intentions of going to the MPSC...'

A petition signed by 59 residents in the Romaine crossing area prompted the City Council last Tuesday to take an official position against the closing.

"We're just trying to keep this thing active because we think the Romaine crossing should be considered for closing," Bauder said.

He listed safety as the primary reason for wanting to close the crossing to auto and truck traffic, specifically what he called a "bad sight distance" for motorists crossing the tracks.

He also suggested that the crossing may be "unnecessary" due to the presence of two other crossings in the vicinity.

One of those crossings, at Ozga Road, is undergoing safety changes and a road-widening project, designed to increase its capability of handling more traffic, if Romaine happened to be closed, he said.

The other crossing is at Shook Road. A recent traffic count at the Romaine crossing reportedly indicated that an average of 697 vehicles use the crossing daily, a figure Bauder said ordinarily would be sufficient to warrant the crossing remaining open.

However, the improvements at the Ozga crossing will lessen the Romaine traffic load and possibly render it as "unnecessary," he added.

"Under the 1973 Federal Highway and Safety Act, crossings are being closed if it can be proved they are unnecessary," Bauder continued.

He said "eight to 12" trains pass the Romaine crossing daily.

Bauder, who made the original inspection of the crossings and the decision to try and close Romaine, added that N&W will wait until the Ozga improvements are completed to determine if the railroad will pursue the Romaine closing.

"We want to work this out with the city, but if they say 'hell no' on the closing we'll have to re-evaluate our position," he said. "But if we think we can win, we'll try."

At civic center site

Mall heads for spring groundbreaking

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Although plans for a new 34th District Court building on the site of Romulus' proposed civic center are dragging, the center's main attraction appears to be rolling toward an early spring groundbreaking date.

The owner of the Metro Romulus Mall, a 237,000-square foot enclosed shopping center to be built near a civic auditorium-convention center and senior citizens high-rise housing complex, said he anticipates groundbreaking for the mall about March 20.

Jim Sargent, an independent Birmingham developer, Monday added that five leases have been signed by stores and restaurants to locate in the mall on Wayne Road between Ecorse Road and I-94.

Among them is Metro-Port Theaters which will build three theaters there, a Palace and Coney Island restaurants and "major" grocery and drug stores.

Sargent said he could not say yet which grocery and drug chains had signed leases, but added that he is trying to lure a Sears, K-Mart or JC Penney store to the mall.

Sargent added that he has other "tentative" leases and hopes to include 30 to 35 stores in the climate-controlled mall which will cost $10,883,000.

The significant factor about the mall, is that it will be about 37,000-square feet larger than originally planned, making room for more stores, according to Sargent.

The developer who owns other "smaller centers" in the Detroit area, is having the mall built by the Arthur Antonelli Construction Co. of Southfield.

When plans for the Metro Plaza were unveiled last October, a firm called Capital Expansions of Birmingham was listed as the mall's designer and builder.

However, Sargent said the firm no longer exists and he is the sole owner of the mall.

Plans for the 300-unit senior citizens high-rise apartment complex reportedly still are in progress, but no groundbreaking date has been announced.

However, plans for the hoped-for new 34th District Court building appear to have stalled at least temporarily while the city debates its rental intentions for the court.

Original plans were for the court to be built by the Major Construction Co. of Warren, then leased to the city for use by the municipalities within the 34th district.

Also planned for the area is an 85,000-square foot civic auditorium and convention center, considered by Romulus officials as a site for trade fairs and conventions which perhaps are too small to use the massive Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The original estimated total cost of the 75-acre complex is $20 million.

And to increase service

Smith vows fight to continue road patrol

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Roman Staff
The former mayor of
Belleville and present
Wayne County commissioner, Royce E. Smith, said he will fight not only to continue, but to increase the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Road Patrol services for townships. Smith made his statement following a meeting in which a committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners voted to maintain the patrols at their present level for 90 days after Feb. 1.

The recommendation by the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee will be considered by the Ways and Means Committee when it meets at 2 p.m. tomorrow. All 27 county commissioners serve on that committee.

Armed with tax statistics and other figures, Smith said:

"I intend to press for funding for the full year when this matter comes up at the Ways and Means Committee. The townships have the right to the service. They should be getting more, not less."

"The patrols are about 50 per cent of what they should be. If there are some minor things that have to be cut in order to have better police protection, the people are for that."

"Police protection is the first concern of the people in my district, and we are elected to do the will of the people."

At present 28 deputies are assigned to the township patrols. There are three cars on the road 24 hours per day, seven days a week.

"There are no more sheriff's cars than there were 15 years ago, to my knowledge," Smith added.

"Yet Canton Township's population has doubled since the 1970 census and Van Buren has almost doubled. How the road patrol can be expected to protect the out-county adequately with the same number of cars is a mystery to me."

Smith was ready to argue the issue at the public safety committee meeting, but the panel voted to recommend the 90-day extension without discussion from non-members. Smith is not a member of that committee.

Smith is opposed to the request that the townships share $97,000 of the cost of the sheriff's patrols or face a service cutback. The request was approved by a majority of the board Dec. 19 before Smith took office.

"If the townships give any money, that will get the foot in the door, Smith said. "And once somebody gets his foot in the door, he is two-thirds of the way in. I am for 100 per cent county funding."

Smith argued that the $467,000 annual cost of the present patrol is a minor item in the $304 million county budget.

Milliken backs tax hike

Refusing to retreat from his call for a boost in personal income taxes, Gov. William Milliken has told fellow Republicans the increase is inevitable.

"I've spent hundreds of hours preparing the budget," Milliken told party members at a weekend meeting in Romulus. Anyone who thinks the state can make up for that lost revenue by cutting the budget is playing politics with the voters."

The governor spoke at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee at the Hilton Inn here Saturday.

The state stands to lose an estimated $200 million annually due to a repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs.

Milliken will make the exact amount of his proposed increase known later this month when he sends his budget to the Legislature.

The Governor added that those who say a tax increase can be avoided by trimming cost excesses are "posturing for the public."

"It's a fact of life that there's no easy way out," he said.

"The county is collecting $9 million in property taxes in the townships," he added. "The road patrol is the only tangible service the township taxpayers see for their money."

He believes the taxing limits on townships are another strong argument for maintaining the patrols.

"Townships are limited to one mill ($1 per $1,000 of equalized property valuation)," he said. "They asked the voters for more money for law enforcement and were turned down."

He also disagreed with the argument that the townships should pay for their police services because cities do.

"The county pays the entire cost of Detroit Recorder's Court except for the state share of the judges' salaries," he said. "That amounts to more than the entire sheriff's budget, including the jail."

"I venture to say that not one-half of one percent of the people of Wayne County ever have put a boat on the Detroit River. And how long is it since you've heard of a violent crime on the river?"

"I am not saying that Detroit should pay all of that.

Detroit can no more afford to do so than the townships can afford to pay the entire cost of the road patrol. If they take the patrols away from the townships, I want somebody to tell me what the townships will be getting for their 7.07 mills."

The county property tax amounts to 7.07 mills-$7.07 per $1,000 of property valuation.

Hearing reaches finish

The months of evidence-gathering and case preparations in the Romulus Detroit Metropolitan Airport lawsuit are expected to reach a climax Friday. That probably will be the final day of the hearing in United States District Court to determine the fate of the runway expansion project at the airport.

The hearing will resume at 9:30 a.m. Friday in Judge Cornelia G. Kennedy's courtroom after a 10-day suspension. It will be the seventh day of the hearing.

The suspension was caused by the unexpected length of the hearing, combined with other court commitments in California of attorney Jerrold A. Fadum, representing Romulus. Fadum, of Beverly Hills, Calif., had expected the trial to conclude in six days and had made other court plans.

He will return to Detroit Friday in what is expected to be the final day of the hearing. Judge Kennedy then will rule on the injunction request made by Romulus to stop construction of the 10,000-foot runway.

Official to speak of jobs

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) will meet with the mayors, township supervisors and county commissioners of his district Friday to explain the Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Act of 1974. Also attending the 2 p.m. meeting in the Romulus City Hall will be a representative from the Department of Labor and Wayne County Manpower Office.

As we see it

Smith must represent total district

The new county commissioner for the 27th District, Roy Smith, seems to feel that the major problem facing him as a county representative during the next two years is the expansion of Wayne County Sheriff's Department Road Patrol service to townships.

The townships are fighting for the continuation of the Road Patrol service, their only means of police protection. The cities seem to have little interest in the continuation of the service; and the majority of the members on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners seem to be against the service continuation.

If former Belleville mayor Smith achieves only that goal, then he will be serving the residents of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships and the other townships in the 27th District—Canton, Northville and Plymouth.

But what about the residents living in the cities in the district—Wayne, Westland, Belleville and Plymouth? Will all Smith's efforts be funneled to help the residents of the townships, as he has said?

If he does concentrate his efforts on the townships and the Road Patrol service, then he will not be representing the best interest of all the people in the 27th District.

Although Smith does not seem to be starting out on the right foot when it comes to placing his priorities on his new commission job, he does seem sincere. He began going in the right direction when he made appearances at council and board meetings and made himself available to local officials.

He is making an effort to meet all local township and city officials to find out where their concerns are. But he seems to be uninformed about what is going on, on a county level.

Smith recently attended a Westland City Council meeting to introduce himself to the councilmen. Being concerned with the recent controversy about a temporary jail at Wayne County General Hospital in Westland, the councilmen questioned Smith about it. He said he did not know anything about the situation.

He is relatively new on the job, taking office this month. We understand why he may not be thoroughly versed about issues on the county level, but the fact that people he represents are concerned about other things should cue Smith in that there are other problems he must face as a county commissioner.

The Road Patrol service is not the only major problem he should try to solve in the next two years.

We urge Smith to resign himself to the fact—right now—that he no longer is a representative for a relatively small group of people—the citizens of Belleville. He is representing a great number of people, living both in townships and cities.

He should not plan to zero in on just one problem facing some of the people who placed him in office; but he should plan to represent all the people in the district doing his best to try to solve all their problems.

As they see it

Resident questions city Christmas spirit

To The Editor: I would like to commend the City of Belleville for its extreme lack of Christmas spirit which proves to me, that the scrooges of the world are not dead. For the past few years, the city has shown less and less interest in decorating Main Street.

The streetlight decorations are just one of the many examples of the city's lack of concern. These hanging decorations are in such poor condition — parts missing, dirty and in such bad need of repair — that it is a total embarrassment for the residents and visitors of the City of Belleville. Also, the electric lines used to connect the decorations are down in quite a few places.

The apathy on the part of the city also is reflected in the two large Christmas trees located at Five Points and the old Township Hall. These trees are adequate but where are the lights and decor which have helped in the past, bring out the spirit of Christmas in the residents of Belleville? How can one have the "spirit" when no one else shows it or cares?

As an alternative to this neglect, I suggest the following:

(1) Prior to the Christmas season, the City of Belleville should contact various community organizations or the vocational directors at Belleville High School (or the school board) to enlist their aid in cleaning, repairing and maintaining the streetlight decorations and associated equipment.

(2) Provide adequate storage facilities in which these items properly can be taken care of, instead of being thrown in the corner of the "city barn".

(3) Instead of cutting down trees every year, plant a couple and trim them so they do not interfere with traffic visibility.

(4) In order to help defray the cost of maintenance on these decorations, the City of Belleville could ask for a small contribution from the businessmen of Belleville ($5 per business would be better than nothing).

I feel that all or some of these listed suggestions would help in one way or another to revive the spirit of Christmas for the residents of the City of Belleville.

A concerned resident

Arabs not the enemy?

To The Editor: Go to war with the Arabs over oil? They are not the enemies of the American people. The enemies of the American people are the politicians who made us depend on the Arabs for our oil.

Was it not our politicians that held up the Alaskan pipeline as long as they possibly could; stopped all off-shore drilling; stopped the building of refineries?

Was it not the politicians that put the anti-pollution devices on our cars; that cut the gas mileage in half; then told us we had a gas shortage?

Didn't these same politicians tell us we had to have seatbelts, head restraints, inter-lock system and, of course, the special bumpers which increased the price of cars.

Who are these politicians? Well, obviously it's the majority of both political parties.

The enemy of the American people are their own elected officials and the news media that promotes them.

I don't expect you to print this. These things have never been pointed out in The Belleville Enterprise. I only can conclude that you too seek the destruction of free America.

ACT commends White

To The Editor: We are enclosing a letter which has been presented to the City Council and mayor of the City of Belleville. It is our hope that you will find it in line with your policies to print in your letter to the editor section.

To the mayor and City Council: We wish to commend Treasurer James White for his courageous action on Jan. 6 in bringing up possible irregularities of payments and non-payments of money due the city.

He has shown himself to be a dedicated public servant in the truest sense of the word. We sincerely hope the mayor and council will follow his example.

The citizens of Belleville need to know they have elected the type of officials who will meet their obligations in pursuing this matter to its end and will take measures to insure this cannot happen again.

This country has experienced a fiasco on the national level which tends to make people wary (and justifiably so) of any questionable events arising in government — whether city, state or national. Let us hope this situation can be cleared up with as much expediency as possible.

JOHANNESBURG, Republic of South Africa—Despite some anxious moments, South Africa came through 1974 in good shape with her economy moving ahead and with a set of diplomatic initiatives at hand promising a better tomorrow.

The republic's understandable concern when Portugal's African Empire began crumbling turned out to have an unexpected silver lining.

White-ruled South Africa definitely is attempting now to improve her relations with her black neighbors to the North. If this detente, or "opening to the north", succeeds, South African officials believe they will be able to reverse the process of isolation imposed on the republic by much of the rest of the world community.

Nothing ever is static in African politics, but up to now the South African government has gotten on surprisingly well with the interim regime in Mozambique which is scheduled to gain full independence from Portugal next June.

There have been some disorders in Mozambique but no repetition of the widespread Congo horrors of the 1960s. Members of Frelimo have played down their black guerrilla image as they have assumed more responsibilities for governing Mozambique.

Restraint also has dictated the actions of the South African government. It firmly rejected the option of allowing white mercenaries to strike into Mozambique from South African territories. Officials said this policy of nonintervention was so basic that it would only be changed as a last resort if it became evident that some foreign power such as the Soviet Union was using Mozambique as a staging area for aggression.

Frelimo, for its part, has not promoted widespread guerrilla insurgency in South Africa's northern Bantustan (black homeland) of Zululand.

South African officials and Frelimo leaders recognized that major economic considerations dictated the need for them to come to some sort of "live and let live" understanding, diplomatic sources said.

Of tremendous importance in this connection is the giant Cabora Bassa hydroelectric system now nearing completion on the lower Zambezi River in Mozambique.

Constructed by an international consortium, Zambezi—headed by a South African company—the dam has taken six years to build at a cost of $400 million. The water it is backing up eventually will cover nearly 2,000 square miles with an average depth of 75 feet. This lake will stretch back about 150 miles to a point near the Zambian border.

Though the lake will take two years to fill, it is hoped the turbines set in the base of Cabora Bassa will start producing electricity next April, thus providing badly needed additional power to South Africa's overstrained grid system.

Power from Cabora Bassa could produce an economic miracle for all of southern and eastern Africa including some of the nine Bantustans the South African government has set up inside its borders for various black tribes.

Traces of many minerals including copper, nickel, iron and even gold have been found in the area. If adequate power is available, these can be exploited profitably, scientists and engineers said.

While these prospects provide hope for the future, students of African problems stressed that re-adjustments of political and economic arrangements between blacks and whites almost always involve difficult problems.

Mozambique is a case in point. Undoubtedly, the withdrawal of Portuguese rule served to awaken Prime Minister John Vorster's government to the need to revise South Africa's relationships with the black neighboring states to the North. Those same changes, however, have been hard for the white settlers in Mozambique to take.

Of the 220,000 Portuguese who resided in Mozambique a year ago, probably half of them are gone now, mostly to Portugal itself. Some have taken what property they still possessed and moved to Brazil. According to official estimates, 15,000 Mozambique refugees have crossed into South Africa.

Recently Vorster and President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia have engaged in an exchange of views which can be viewed in one of two ways. Either this was the most hopeful development in this part of the world in years or it was what diplomats refer to as "a dialogue of the deaf," with neither man truly appreciating the position the other was trying to define.

To clear confusion

IRS submits several helpful tips for tax time

With income tax time on Western Wayne County residents once again, most taxpayers are faced with the situation of what to do once they have acquired their W-2 forms for 1974.

The confusion has been compounded by President Gerald Ford's proposed tax rebates and more than $16 million cutback.

In an effort to keep abreast with the problems plaguing taxpayers this year, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has formulated a column dealing with the most frequently asked questions.

Q: When must I give my employees their W-2 forms?

A: Give your employees their Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statements (or Social Security Statements), for a calendar year, or any corrected statements made in the year, not later than Jan. 31 of the following year.

If someone leaves your employment before the end of the calendar year and you don't expect that employee to return to work within the calendar year, you must give a wage and tax statement to the employee not later than 30 days after you pay the final wages.

Q: Last summer I earned a few hundred dollars to cover some of my college expenses this semester. Do I have to file a tax return and report this income?

A: Single individuals who have $2,050 or more gross income for the year must file a return. Any individual who may be claimed as a dependent of another taxpayer must file a return if he or she had a gross income of $750 or more and received any unearned income during the year.

Even if you did not make enough money this year to require you to file a return, you may have had income tax withheld from your pay. If so, you should file a return, claim your personal exemption and get your refund.

Q: A great-uncle of mine recently died, naming me executor of his estate. His will states I'll receive a small amount of cash. In addition, I will receive a fee for performing the executor's duties. Do I have to pay tax on this money?

A: Gifts, bequests or inheritances you receive are not income. But if property you receive in this manner later produces taxable income such as interest or dividends, that income is taxable to you.

The fee you receive as executor must be included in your gross income, however.

Q: In addition to prescribing medicine and new eyeglasses to relieve my headaches, my doctor sent me to a clinic for acupuncture treatment. I know the drugs and eyeglasses are deductible medical expenses, but what about the acupuncture services?

A: Payments for acupuncture services qualify as deductible medical expenses.

NEW KIWANIS PROGRAM — Work with children with learning disabilities combined with service to senior citizens will be the twin program of Kiwanis International this year. Roy W. Davis (left), president of Kiwanis International, presents his organizations' manual on work with learning disabled children to Dr. Lee W. Haslinger of Pontiac, president of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities. The two groups will work together on the new program. The Kiwanis Club of Belleville will supervise the local aspects of the new program.

IRS adds hours

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has added Saturday hours in the operation of IRS offices in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

R.L. Plate, district director for IRS, said the Saturday hours of 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. were added to accommodate taxpayers who are unable to come in during the normal Monday through Friday hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Plate added that area taxpayers can find IRS help as close as their telephone. Toll-free telephone service is available from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays.

Taxpayers are asked to consult the tax forms mailed to them for the proper telephone number in their areas.

'Number' plans rock concert

The Youth Activities Committee of Belleville's crisis-counseling center, The Number, is sponsoring a rock concert to raise funds for the establishment of a coffee house for the City of Belleville's young people. The concert will be held Saturday at the Belleville High School Auditorium, located at 501 W. Columbia

Ave., in Belleville. The concert will begin at 7 p.m. with music by Tom Kuhr's "Eeech." They will be followed by a second band, and at about 9:30 p.m. the concert's headline group, "Cactus," will play. In all there will be five full hours of rock and roll, according to Russ McQuaid, president of the Student Council at the high school and member of the Youth Activities Committee.

The committee's first concert held at the auditorium attracted 210 people. The concert featured "Skyhook" and included "George & Susan" as a warm-up act.

To produce the "Cactus" concert, the Youth Activities Committee will have to have close to $3,000 in expenses, committee members said. To cover this and make enough profit to open the coffee house, admission tickets have been priced at $5 in advance and $6 at the door.

Tickets are available at Village Sound, 201 South St., in Belleville.

Robert Harkai, director of Belleville High School's Student Activities Center, said if the concert sells out, its proceeds combined with several hundred dollars collected at dances sponsored by The Number earlier this year "would be a major step in making the coffee house a reality."

The idea to establish a coffee house in Belleville was the result of a decision made by the Youth Activities Committee that "the kids here need a drug-free place to go," according to Kathy Calvillo, director of The Number.

Harkai added that the proposed coffee house would be a place where area youngsters could go at night.

It would have activities and serve food.

"The coffee house will open as soon as we get the funds," Harkai said, adding that Feb. 1 has been set as a target date for its opening.

It is estimated the cost of running the coffee house would be between $600 and $800 per month.

An admission of perhaps 25 cents or more per person is under consideration.

Squad demonstrates emergency treatment

The Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Department has organized an Artificial Resuscitation and Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation Squad which will demonstrate how to perform artificial resuscitation in an emergency.

The demonstration program includes a short film, "The Breath of Life," and an actual demonstration on "Anatomic Anne," a human resuscitation model, according to Jeffery G. Clark, director of the township's Parks and Recreation Department.

The presentation is approximately 30 to 45 minutes in length and includes time for all participants to actually practice artificial resuscitation on the model.

The presentation is free, Clark added.

All interested individuals, groups, clubs and school classes desiring a presentation of the new artificial resuscitation program should make prior arrangements by calling the Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Department at 699-2001. Arrangements should be made one week in advance.

"Artificial resuscitation given in an emergency has saved a countless number of lives," Clark said. "Learning the technique is both easy and invaluable."

A recent demonstration of the township's new resuscitation program was presented at a meeting of the Belleville Lions Club in the Polish National Alliance Hall on Sumpter and Harris roads in Sumpter Township.

For spring

Fair plans start

An elaborate program of activities and displays now is being formulated for the first Spring Trade Fair involving the communities of Belleville and Canton Township.

The 3-day trade fair will be held May 16-18 at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds, located on Quirk Road north of I-94 near Belleville.

The area's initial trade fair program is being jointly sponsored by the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Canton Township Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber officials are planning to make the trade fair an all-area event of promoting the residential, professional and business talents of both communities.

The plans now under consideration call for various market, flea market and an arts and crafts display, in addition to commercial, industrial and trade exhibits.

Entertainment for old and young alike is being planned and possible horse and boat shows are under consideration.

Co-chairmen of the Spring Trade Fair program are Kurt Atchinson of Atchinson Ford Sales of Belleville and vice-president of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce; and Bart Berg of Bart's Nursery and president of the Canton Township Chamber of Commerce.

Berg said plans to include adjacent communities in Western Wayne County to participate in the trade fair are under review by Chamber officials.

Belleville resident is listed

A Belleville resident has been named to the dean's list at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn., according to academic dean Walter R. Guyton.

Rickey White, the son of Melvin White of 15571 Martinsville Road, was among those students to compile a grade point average of 3.5 or better during the 1974 fall semester at the school.

was reported good by program director Ben R. Robertson.

The physical fitness classes are conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Belleville High School gymnasium.

Thirty five township residents have registered for the physical fitness program's initial classes for this year and currently are participating in the various physical activities assigned to them, according to Robertson.

"Most people like to experience a lean stomach, more energy, a healthy cardio-vascular system and feel better over all," he said. "One way to do so is to participate in some form of physical fitness."

For further information on the physical fitness program, call Robertson at 699-2001.

Students raise cash for camping

The sixth grade students attending Belleville's Elwell Road Elementary School will be participating in an extended outdoor classroom experience in April.

Approximately 100 students and teachers will board buses on April 21 and head for Camp Hehalu, located near Fenton, Mich. But there is a small factor they must consider before they board those buses: money. However, the Elwell School teachers' committee under the direction of sixth grade teacher Laurie Bosscher, appears to have a remedy for the problem, according to School Principal William Chizmar.

Each student will have an opportunity to earn the $35 it will take to pay his camp tuition and bus fare. The students already have earned approximately $1,000 by selling candy this fall.

Elwell School's "Friday Night at the Movies" began last week, with "The Absent Minded Professor." A minimal donation was asked to cover the cost of the movie and candy was sold by students to raise money for the camp.

The three sixth grade classes at the school are taking turns handling the arrangements for the movie seating, candy sales, cleanup and other related matters.

"Students not only will have the opportunity to benefit from the camp experience but will have the chance to get involved in the hard work and effort it takes to get there. It is the committee's feeling that they will appreciate it more if they earn it," Chizmar said. David Larabell, fifth grade teacher at Sumpter Elementary School, have given the Elwell teachers' committee valuable help with his information and guidance from his experience with the Camp Wolverine program last year, Chizmar said. The committee has expressed sincere thanks to Larabell for his help.

Township heads attend meet

Administrative officials from the townships of Sumpter and Van Buren and adjacent areas attended sessions of the 22nd annual convention of the Michigan Townships Association held recently in Grand Rapids.

In addition to electing a president, three vice-presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and members to the board of directors from each of the 19 districts, convention delegates and administrative officials heard topics on planning, zoning and land use and a township attorneys' seminar on parliamentary law.

G. Elton Gollwitzer, Clerk Patricia Cullin, and several members of the Township Board.

Sumpter Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi and members of the Township Board also were in attendance at the convention.

Jobless plan to be detailed

A meeting to explain details of the new Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Act of 1974 to local officials of the 15th Congressional District will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in Romulus.

The meeting, called by Congressman William D. Ford, will be held in the council chambers of Romulus City Hall at 11111 S. Wayne Road.

On hand for the briefing, in addition to Ford, will be representatives of the U. S. Department of Labor, which will administer the program, and of Wayne County, which will distribute the money to local communities.

"This legislation, passed by Congress in the closing days of the last session and since signed into law, is specifically designed to help alleviate the growing problem of unemployment, Ford said.

"It authorizes one billion dollars during 1975 for public-service and public-works employment and also extends unemployment assistance to unemployed workers not already covered," he added.

The funds are to be allocated on the basis of local unemployment figures, following a pre-set formula, Ford said.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

National Selected Morticians

How would you answer the question, "What was the greatest day in your life?" Answers will vary of course. When you think about it though, the greatest day for everyone is TODAY! Why? Because today comes only once. Today is life itself.

The sweet fragrance of today's rose may vanish tomorrow. Nature doesn't wait for tomorrow. A family togetherness today can bring joy, beauty, satisfaction. It means a great day. It means life itself. We're reminded what Charles Maccomb Flaudra wrote: "It is good for one to appreciate that life is now. Whatever it offers, little or much, life is now - this day - this hour - and is probably the only experience of the kind one is to have."

And what H.L. Mencken wrote, "We are here and it is now..." Lots of families know it is a soul-searing, tragic truth - "Here today, gone tomorrow." This thought naturally reminds us of the people who faced life and took the time, WITHOUT cost or obligation, to discuss "pre-need arrangements" with us - ahead of time. They appreciated the calming influence; were grateful for the careful counsel; were thankful they took the time to avoid confusion for others, in a future tomorrow to come. Think about it. Talk to us about it if you wish. In this, as in everything else, when we do the things we can and should do today - in life - tomorrow will take care of itself.

To attract business

Brochure spearheads chamber campaign

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce is spearheading its further efforts to attract new residents, new businesses and new industries with the publication and distribution of an informative new brochure in the Belleville-Van Buren Township communities.

The City of Belleville, located west of Detroit, is one of Western Wayne County's thriving communities, the booklet says. Its strategic location in regard to major expressways and two major airports makes Belleville an ideal shipping and receiving center, according to the Chamber's civic tome.

The 24-page brochure tells the story of the community's educational, recreational and commercial advantages as well as its churches and attractive residential features and extends an invitation both to residents who want the "best in community living" and to businesses who want to join a "thriving business and professional area."

The brochure, which also contains a pictorial review of the Belleville area, is being distributed to the business community, area developers and real estate people.

Copies also are available at the Chamber offices in Belleville.

In citing some of Belleville's early history, the Chamber brochure states:

"It was on June 27, 1847 that three men, George D. Hill, D.L. Quirk and Robert P. Clark platted the town of Belleville named after one of the area's most noted citizens, James Bell.

"Intertwined in the early history of the community was the Wabash Railroad which began operating its train through Belleville in July 1881. The rail service inaugurated the transportation of passengers and area goods to far away markets and cities and, in return, brought new settlers and needed goods and merchandise into the town.

"Education came to the town at the turn of the century in the form of a little brick schoolhouse on Third Street. The structure was hit by lightning and destroyed in 1903. Subsequently the building was rebuilt and today is the home of the I.O.O.F. Temple.

"Belleville's first newspaper, the Michigan Mirror, was published from 1881 to 1883 by W.W. Secord. In 1886, Roscoe C. Bengole began publishing the Belleville Enterprise and two years later sold it.

The newspaper prospered under the new owner and rose to be the leading publication in Wayne County. Later the name was changed to the Enterprise-Roman by a new publisher."

The brochure contemplates the early history of the area by stating:

"In May 1905 the town officially became a village and William A. Atyeo served as its first president. Forty-one years later, in 1946, Belleville became a city."

The Detroit Edison Co. furnished lights and electricity in 1919 and the Detroit City Gas Co. provided gas service to the community in 1927, according to the Chamber.

In Belleville's early days, Detroit Edison Co. created Edison Lake to supply power for the area's flour and saw mills. The lake later was enlarged by Edison and used as a source of energy to provide the city's electrical power.

The artificial lake, renamed Belleville Lake, originally made from dammed-up waters of the nearby Huron River, currently is Belleville-Van Buren Township's scenic attraction and recreational area.

The lake now is owned by Van Buren Township along with a 101-acre recreational site on the lake's northern shores that has been named Van Buren Park by township officials.

NEW KERR PRESIDENT — The Kerr Manufacturing Co. in Romulus has a new president. He is Robert L. Ransdell who was promoted to company president from his former position of vice-president of

Van Buren employees to decide union issue

Van Buren Township employees will vote next week to determine if they want union representation.

An election to determine whether administration employees want to be represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) has been scheduled for Jan. 30 at the Township Hall, 46425

Tyler Road in Van Buren Township.

The election date was set following a recent conference between officials of Council 23 of AFSCME and representatives of the township.

AFSCME has filed a petition with the township administration seeking to be the sole bargaining agent for township employees.

The petition is the first move by any union in township history to organize employees.

AFSCME seeks to represent "all laborers," Water Department employees, truck drivers, mechanics, maintenance foremen and the dog warden in the bargaining unit.

The township currently has a full-time work force of 40 employees.

Approval by 30 per cent of affected employees is needed for official recognition of the union.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said the agreement to hold the election was reached after the union accepted a township proposal for expansion of the unit.

Tax deadline has extension

Residents in Van Buren Township have been given additional time to pay their 1974 personal and real estate property taxes.

Van Buren Township Treasurer Dorothy York received approval from the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees to extend the deadline from Feb. 14 to Feb. 28 for the payment of these taxes without penalty.

After the deadline the delinquent tax penalty is one-half of one per cent per month, Mrs. York said. In other matters the township trustees approved the taking of bids on the purchase of a three-quarter ton pickup truck.

Local manufacturer gets new executives

Two Michigan men, officials at the Kerr Manufacturing Co., located at 28200 Wick Road in Romulus, have been promoted by the Sybron Corp. with headquarters in Rochester, N.Y.

Reporting to Nelson in his new position will be the Ritter Company, a leading manufacturer of dental and medical equipment with plants in Rochester, N.Y.; Karlsruhe, Germany; and Mexico City; the Baisch Company, a producer of dental and medical cabinetry located in Germany and Kerr, manufacturer of dental sundries with plants in Romulus, Emeryville, California, Toronto, Canada; Naples, Italy; and Sao Paulo, Brazil. Replacing Nelson as president of Kerr will be Robert L. Ransdell, formerly Kerr vice president of marketing.

Sumpter police force grows

The Sumpter Township Police Department now is operating with an increase in its personnel and the township's present 2-car patrol fleet soon will receive two new additional patrol cars to meet current law enforcement needs.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees recently gave its approval to the appointment and acceptance of seven additional employees and approved a bid by a Chrysler Plymouth dealer in Southgate on the purchase of two police cars. The new employees including five new police officers, will be paid with money received by the township from the federally-funded comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA), according to Sumpter Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi.

Joining the township's police force are Oliver Durham, Jonathan Rush, Clifton Harris, Dennis Mickens and James West, who will serve as the township's dog warden.

The two remaining are

Wanda Elden, former aide to Parraghi's predecessor Robert D. Marble, who was appointed police department secretary; and Craig Moody who was named custodian. The police force's new members will undergo special police training.

The township trustees also approved the appointment of Henry Redman of Rockwood as tax assessor for the township. Redman also will be paid with CETA funds.

The township's new police patrol cars will cost $4,360 providing the Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Southgate can deliver the cars in a reasonable time. If not, the township board directed the cars be purchased from Atchinson Ford Sales, Inc. of Belleville for $4,555.60.

In other matters, the township trustees accepted the vote of the township's volunteer fire department on the election of fire fighter Larry Hartwick as the department's new fire chief. He replaces fire fighter Joseph Mitchell.

The trustees also; —Appointed Parraghi as the township's representative on the board of directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority. He replaces Marble.

—Authorized the supervisor to negotiate for a land parcel in the township as a site for the township's new dog pound.

—Initiated steps to obtain the faith and credit of Wayne County in the issuance of a proposed $1 million bond issue to finance the construction of water line extensions in the township.

Poet remembers slain soldier

A poem written by a New Boston area resident in memory of a nephew who was killed in action during the Vietnam conflict has become part of a nationally-circulated publication "New Voices in American Poetry."

The 5-verse poem entitled, "Behold The Empty Place," was written by Eugene S. Hunt "In loving memory of Donald R. Miller" his nephew who was killed in 1968 while fighting with the U.S. Army in the Vietnam Conflict. He was 20 years old.

Hunt, who is employed at the Fleetwood Plant of Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corp., has been writing poetry on and off most of his life.

He resides at 32860 Sibley Road in New Boston and presently has a book of his personal poems about half completed. Hunt and his wife, Barbara, are the parents of seven children. All but two are married.

"New Voices in American Poetry" was published by Vantage Press located in New York. The publication contains 800 pages of poems.

The poem written by Hunt follows:

BEHOLD THE EMPTY PLACE

I called my God in question,
Lord; how could such thing be?

To let the wicker woodman cut down this model tree.

Thou couldst have took an older tree, which wind and time had worn.
But thou didst take this fine young tree, which never fruit had borne.

On silent somber wings of thought,
My God then answered me.
Who told thee that the woodman had harmed our precious tree?

I've had this tree transplanted, removed it from thy face.
Look now to where the young tree stood
"Behold the empty place."

Yes I had land more suited to such noble tree.
And one so full of promise
I wanted close to me.

Plans taking shape for community mart

Plans already are under way for the Romulus Community Market's second season, which begins the first Saturday in June.

Beverly McAnally, the market's coordinator and City Council president, said persons who wish to set up sales displays of crafts or food items this summer are urged to begin preparations and watch for announcements regarding the sale of permits.

An expected highlight of this year's market is a flea market, Mrs. McAnally said.

She added that it is the market committee's intent to more intensely promote the market throughout Western Wayne County this summer. Last summer's market, though successful, attracted primarily Romulus customers.

Police investigate breakin at school

A breakin and vandalism at Rawsonville Road Elementary School located in the Van Buren Public School District is under investigation by police.

The school, situated at 3110 Grove Road, was broken into early last Saturday. Several windows were broken and offices and supply rooms were ransacked with books and materials pulled off shelves.

Police also reported that a principal's desk was ransacked and an electric typewriter was found on the ground outside the school.

Belleville graduate is cited

A graduate of Belleville High School, Robert Millard, the son of Mrs. Clayton (Harriet) Walters of 363 Church St., Belleville, is listed among the students making the dean's list at Linn Technical College in Linn, Mo.

Like little David, a little Want Ad does the job. You'll find it's hard to think of anything that does so much for so little every day. Want Ads find you a home, a job, a car, they return your lost pets and articles, they sell your business, bring you reliable help, rent your apartments, and, they bring you the added income for enjoyable "extras." These powerful little ads truly mean better, easier living for you and your family. Get in on the fun and extra money. Make a list of your "sellables" and dial 729-3300 to place your little Want Ad for BIG results.

There's never been a better time to buy a new car than right now. Here's why.

1. 1975 cars generally offer better fuel economy than 1971, 1972 or 1973 cars.

2. New maintenance schedules can save you hundreds of dollars. Spark plug life is longer. So are lubrication and oil change intervals.

3. Many important features you once paid extra for as options now come standard in the new '75 cars.

4. In many ways, it's what you can't see "under the skin" — quality, durability, engineering improvements — that make a '75 car a value-holding investment for the future.

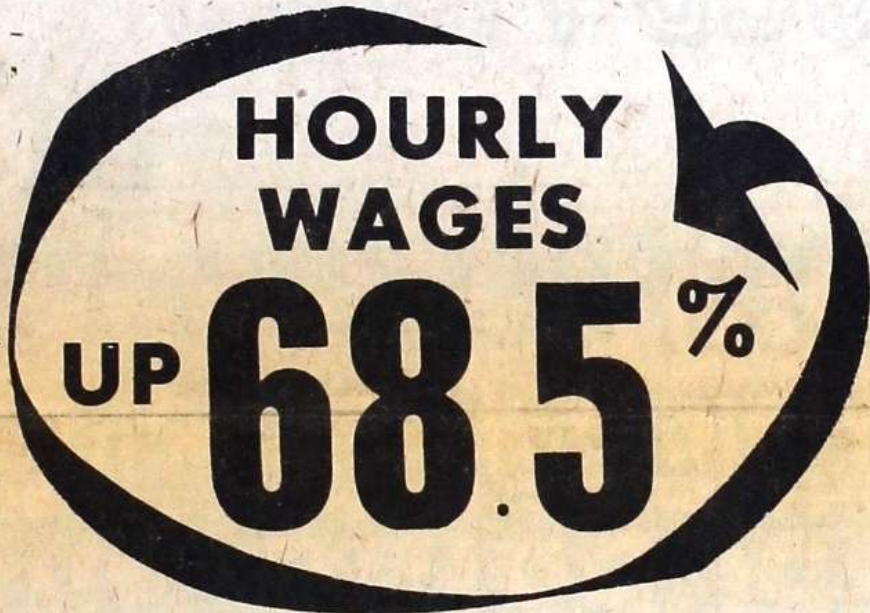

5. 42-month installment plans, where available, can reduce your monthly payments.

6. The average monthly auto loan interest charge is only $3 more than it was six years ago.
7. New car price percentage increases are less than upturns in cost of food, clothing and even your local movie theater.

8. The cost of a new car now takes less from today's paycheck than it did 10 years ago. Then it took the median wage earner 5.1 months to earn the price of a base four-door car. Today, he can earn a four-door car in 4.4 months.

9. During the last few months the increase in resale value of used cars has been high enough, in many cases, to offset completely the new '75 price increases. In effect, used car prices may never be higher and the cost to trade may never be lower.

10. It all adds up to a lot for your dollar at a time when you probably need a new car — and the nation's economy needs your vote of confidence.

Great cars.
And a great time to buy.

Give yourself a lift

Buy a new car, there's never been a better time. The car you're driving now will never be worth more. Used car values have been at a 15-year high recently. The new 1975 models will save you money, too. Solid state ignition, catalytic converters, and the exclusive use of unleaded gas add up to savings on fuel. New maintenance schedules mean additional savings on oil changes, lube jobs, tune-ups. Think about buying now. It could save you plenty.

Mahalak gets committee job

A top committee assignment in the Michigan House of Representatives has gone to a Romulus legislator for the 1975-76 session of the Legislature.

State Rep. Edward E.

Doctor elected chief

A specialist in internal medicine, Dr. Daniel J. Fall, has been elected chief of staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Fall succeeds Dr. Norman L. Banghart, who has served in that position since January 1973. Banghart is a practicing physician specializing in obstetrics and gynecology.

Other officers elected are Dr. D. E. Boblitt, vice chief of staff, and Dr. Richard P. Dorr, secretary-treasurer.

Fall is president of St. Joseph's Internal Medicine Department and medical director of the hospital's Medical Intensive Care Unit.

A graduate of the University of Maryland Medical School, Fall has been a member of the local hospital medical staff since 1966.

Mahalak (D-Romulus) has been appointed to the House Appropriations Committee after serving for several years as chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs.

Mahalak's new appointment was disclosed by House Speaker Bobby D. Crim, who makes all House committee assignments.

Appropriations is considered the top committee assignment in the House, and both the House and Senate appropriations committee write the state budget and handle all bills involving the expenditure of state funds.

Because of the responsibility and work load involved, those members appointed to the committee traditionally receive no other standing committee assignments.

Mahalak said he was pleased with the appointment, adding:

"Because of the state's economic problems and awesome responsibilities and the need to write a tight state budget and carefully watch over state spending, the work of the Appropriations Committee will be especially challenging this session of the Legislature."

Mahalak represents the 38th House District which includes the cities of Romulus, Wayne and Taylor, Huron and Sumpter townships and much of Monroe County.

The 'new you' featured at Home Arts Club meet

To help abate those mid-winter doldrums that beset us come the post-holiday season, the program committee of the Home Arts Club got things off to a perky start by putting the emphasis on "The New You" at its Jan. 13 meeting. Chairman Virginia Turney stressed "beginning the new year with new ideas" by presenting new hair styles, make-up, clothing and accessories.

Those ideas were fulfilled when personnel from the Headhunters (a local beauty salon) chose two willing volunteers on which to perform their artistry. Sandy Cabana and Joe Steffes, hair stylists, had Angela Hampton as their first model. Angela, who was already wearing a blow cut, had her hair trimmed even shorter to emphasize her lovely large brown eyes.

Mary Kosin was the "before and after" model. She arrived with her beautiful black hair done in a sophisticated set (done by her own hairdresser) complete with teasing and hair spray. After shampooing her hair, Joe cut it in the latest style, dried it and then used an iron to give it a more bouffant look.

CONTINUING ON for the total look for m'lady, Sue Vicchy and Suzie Druker demonstrated the Beauty-Control skin care program, again using members of the club: Jean Ferguson, Sally Jones and Ann Szlinis. They graciously allowed their faces to be cleansed, creamed and finally made up with the final results an inspiration to those watching.

The wardrobe also came into play with several ensembles from Kureth's of Belleville displayed around the room prompting the audience to complete the "new you" image with new and exciting clothes.

For the February meeting, members are asked to appear in something different and unusual — in either a hair-do, new color, new style or new cosmetics.

Peggy Curtis will be featured at the Feb. 10 meeting at North Junior High School when she will show a variety of crafts in the art room. Members are welcome to bring guests.

AT THE MEETING which preceded the program, roll call was answered by 20 members and seven guests: Charlotte Price, Mary Loria, Diane Moriarty, Jean Stone, Ann Szlinis, Jean McArdle and Bobbie Walunas, the latter being added to the membership that night along with Sharry Budd and Betty Vincent.

In keeping with the theme for the evening, the hostesses, Elaine Gutierrez and Sally Jones, used as a centerpiece a "Holly Hobby" doll looking into a mirror which bore the inscription, "Put on a happy face." Dessert, tea and coffee concluded the session.

Ford Wives Club has interesting season planned

A variety of interesting and diversified programs is planned by the Ford Wives Club to help assuage the coming wintery-dull months. Ford Wives, many of whom reside in the Belleville, Romulus and New Boston areas, meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month at the Ford World Headquarters Building, Michigan Avenue at Southfield Road.

The next regular meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 28 will feature a country western music theme and Earl Good-fellow's Country and Western Band. An added attraction will be "Little Audrey" who sings and plays the bongo drums.

The speaker for the Feb. 25 meeting will be Nancy Kennedy, food editor for the Ford Times magazine.

A special event planned for Jan. 22 (today) will have 50 members and guests heading for the Fisher Theater and the matinee of "Irene" starring Jane Powell.

Another date to circle is Feb. 13 when "Ford Wives Night at the Races" is scheduled. Busesloads of some 150 members and guests will leave World Headquarters for the Windsor Race Track. Tickets for the evening event include admission, dinner and transportation.

"Fashions for 1975" will be featured at an exciting show planned for March 11. This will be an evening program and tickets will include dessert, special entertainment and door prizes. Members and guests should plan now to attend this outstanding event which will feature both men's and women's designs.

Former resident's wedding prompts flight to Florida

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Back from the sunny skies of Florida (and now suffering from a sudden Michigan cold) is Elsie Ostrowski of Lake Crest Drive. With her mother, Mrs. Clyde Smith of Dewey Lake, she flew to Tampa Jan. 5 and was met there by her daughter, Gail, who is employed as a surgical nurse at Morton F. Plant Hospital in Clearwater.

The two women were Gail's guests until the 9th when all three motored to Boca Raton for the wedding which prompted the trip. The group was invited to stay with Mrs. Anthony Gielinski, formerly of Belleville.

On the 10th they attended the wedding of Craig Dubisky and Nancy Bazner at St. Joan of Arc Church in Boca Raton and the reception which followed at Manning Hall there. Craig is the son of former Bellevillites, Don and Jane (Gielinski) Dubisky of Boca Raton.

Sunday morning the trio motored back to Gail's apartment and the next night winged their way back to Metro and a cold, cold welcome from the weather.

Infant son christened

Daryle Eric Shephard, who was just two months old on his christening day, received the sacrament of baptism Jan. 12 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. One of five infants presented for the rite, he was baptized by the Rev. Joy Arthur at the 10:30 morning service.

At 5 p.m. Daryle's mom and dad, Pat and Jim Shephard, welcomed relatives to their home on Sumpter Road where a ham dinner was served (the ham having been cooked to perfection on the couple's outdoor gas grill.)

Arriving for the celebration were the baby's great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Sliwa, and his grandparents, Stan and Jennie Sliwa and Art and Verdys Shephard, all of Belleville. Still others at the party were Stan and Joyce Sliwa with Tina, Cindy and Mike. Roger and Diane Ferguson with Leslie, Shawn and Shari and their niece, Donna Ferguson, and Brian Shephard and Nancy Ostrowski.

After supper the group saw movies which Jim had taken during the recent holidays and alternated between playing pool and cuddling the boy-of-the-hour.

She makes Dean's list

Sharon Bonaani, a 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, is currently in her freshman year at the University of Michigan where she is studying to be a dental hygienist.

Say yes
to Camp
Fire Girls

"Say Yes to Camp Fire Candy" is the theme of this year's candy sale to benefit the Camp Fire programs and the girls in the Western Wayne County groups are among those who will be seeking candy buyers starting Jan. 24. The bright smiles and "thank you's" will warm the coldest day for those helping the program. Among the candy sellers will be (from left) Tami Porer, member of a Westland Adventure group; Deanna Kushner of Romulus, a Blue Bird; and Cheryl Strong of Inkster, who is in the Camp Fire Discovery program. In the background is Diane Gause of Westland, Camp Fire Candy chairperson. — The Daily Eagle photo.

Camp Fire Girls motto
asks 'say yes' for sale

"Say 'yes' to Camp Fire Candy" is the slogan recently chosen to head the Annual Candy Sale of the Camp Fire Girls, Detroit Area Council. Approximately 5,000 girls will participate in the sale which starts Jan. 24 and will continue through Feb. 15.

Proceeds from the sale will supplement the United Fund's allotment to maintain the Detroit Area Council, which includes Western Wayne County Communities.

Downriver District Candy Chairperson Diane Gause of Westland, said approximately 1,000 Camp Fire Girls in the area will be selling candy in local businesses and door-to-door.

Old Fashioned Peanut Crunch and Chocolate Covered Mints will be available this year for $1.25 a box. Besides earning a commission on each box sold, individual and group awards will be presented to the girls. The group selling the most candy in each district will be treated to a theater party at the University of Detroit Marygrove Theatre. Candy Cupboard chairpersons in this area are Mrs. Harold Monske and Mrs. John MacDonald of Inkster and Mrs. Paul Bialy of Westland.

Celeste Fisher is new prexy of Romulus Senior Citizens

The Romulus Senior Citizens Club began the new year with installation of officers Jan. 14 at the VFW Hall. Prior to the ceremony the club president, Edward Wallac, introduced Gary Bingham, a representative of Mayor Terry Trout, who spoke on the Senior's six-month program as well as the Senior Citizen complex and shopping center which are now in the planning stages.

Fred White then conducted the installation with the following members taking office: Celeste Fisher, president; Hazel Miller, vice-president; Sadye Sumter, secretary; Cecelia Renke, treasurer; Leona Love, financial secretary;

Melissa Bell, miscellaneous secretary, and Mary Butz, co-ordinator.

Appointed officials include Charles Kitzmiller and Herman McIntosh, sergeants-at-arms; Dorothy LaLonde, publicity chairman, and Rita Soave, hostess chairman.

THE GROUP then discussed the club's future programs and decided to have a vote, regarding coming activities at the Jan. 28 meeting. Future projects include the Jan. 25 trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Feb. 11 Shrine Circus in Detroit.

Two new members, Frank and Mary Wisniewski, were introduced and the Coopers were welcomed back after a lengthy absence following their automobile accident and subsequent convalescence.

Marie DeBuysscher spoke about the use of the rooms at the old DPW Building for future activities after which the meeting was adjourned. A light lunch and games followed.

Those wishing to play cards or games after the regular meetings are asked to call Mrs. LaLonde at 722-5695 so that she can make preparations.

A versatile menu item

Chicken treat helps stretch food dollars

Western Wayne County residents caught in the pinch of rising food costs have begun to depend on less expensive cuts of meat in preparing meals.

And leading the list of "cheap meats" is chicken, a versatile menu item that can be served broiled, fried, baked, fricassed and stewed.

But a sure way of serving involves nutritious wheat germ.

Looking very much like a basket of mini chicken legs, these enjoyable wheat germ coated morsels actually are thrifty chicken wings. Not only do they taste super delicious but they are easily prepared. The recipe was designed for carefree meals.

Another noteworthy fact is that this crusty finger food can be served hot or cold with its sweet sour dipping sauce.

A suggestion for finishing out the menu is potato salad, either homemade or some you pick up at the deli, crisp raw vegetables and thick slices of ice cold water-melon.

Keep the wheat germ chicken in mind for buffet suppers any time of year when you're looking for a nifty idea to add newness to your favorite menu.

WHEAT GERM CHICKEN

2 pounds chicken wings
1/2 cup vacuum packed regular wheat germ
1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
1/4 teaspoon pepper
one-eighth teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons catsup or chili sauce
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
Dipping sauce

Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, 7 to 9 minutes until desired tenderness. Drain in colander. Return noodles to pot; pour in sauce from chicken. Mix well; turn into serving dish and top with chicken parts. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Yields four to six servings.

Remove and discard wing tips from chicken. Divide each wing at joint into two pieces. Mix wheat germ with parmesan cheese, pepper and salt in small bowl. Combine soy sauce, catsup and vinegar in shallow container. Dip each piece of chicken first into soy sauce mixture then into wheat germ mixture turning to coat well. Place chicken in shallow baking pan lined with foil. Bake in 375-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until tender. Cover loosely last 10 minutes to prevent over browning. Serve hot or cold with dipping sauce if desired. Makes four or five servings.

DIPPING SAUCE: Mix 1/2 cup chili sauce with 1 tablespoon each brown sugar and cider vinegar.

Jazz up poultry as creole crepe

When your tired of serving chicken in the usual manner, take a break from it all and fill your family's plates economical creole crepes, an all-in-one dish that energy saving, or wine and herb flavored dish, nestled in a bed of egg noodles.

Whatever your fancy be, these three meals will help chase the same-old-thing blahs.

CHICKEN CREOLE CREPES

1 cup enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, beaten
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1/4 cups milk

Butter
Chicken Creole Filling
Stir together flour and salt. Blend together eggs, butter and milk; add all at once to flour mixture, beating until smooth. Melt 1 level teaspoon additional butter in preheated 6-inch skillet for each crepe. Pour 1/4 cup batter into pan, tilt and rotate pan quickly so batter covers bottom evenly. Cook over medium heat 1 to 2 minutes on each side. Stack and keep warm until all crepes are made. Freeze until ready for use or fill with Chicken Creole Filling.

Chicken Creole Filling:

1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
3/4 cup white wine
1 tablespoon chopped hot peppers or green chilies
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
3 cups cooked diced chicken
Saute green pepper, onion and garlic in butter until soft. Add remaining ingredients, except chicken cubes, and simmer 1/2 hour. Add chicken, simmer 5 more minutes. Makes one dozen crepes.

Remember, spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

CHICKEN WITH WINE AND HERBS

1/2 cup olive oil

2 1/2 pounds chicken parts
1/4 pound salt pork, cut in strips
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon chopped garlic
1/2 cup Marsala wine
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (35 ounces) Italian-style tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces (5 cups) klops egg noodles
Grated Parmesan cheese
Heat oil in a Dutch oven or large pan; brown chicken on all sides. Add salt pork, onion, and garlic; cook until lightly browned. Add Marsala and butter. When wine completely is reduced, add tomatoes, pepper, parsley, and basil. Simmer uncovered about 25 minutes, stirring occasionally, until sauce begins to thicken. Meanwhile, add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil.

Council for curriculum gets board approval

The establishment of Romulus Community School District's initial Curriculum Advisory Council has received the approval of the Romulus Board of Education.

The Board of Education's approval was given at Monday night's session following a presentation by Director of Instruction Marvin Fischer on the concept, aims and purposes of the proposed Curriculum Advisory Council.

Selection of the council membership will include representatives of the teaching staff, district administration, parents, students and Board of Education.

Once in operation, the council will be assigned the task of studying areas of curriculum need and changes as presented by the director of instruction and Board of Education and making recommendations.

In other matters, the Board of Education approved a curriculum pilot project at Romulus Elementary School.

Fischer told the school board that the elementary school staff had requested the initiation of a male and female awareness group discussion for sixth graders. The student group, participating with the approval of parents, would meet on the second Wednesday of each month from 2:40 to 3:10 p.m.

The school board also: —Approved a request made by the Harrison Elementary School for permission to take about 30 students on a 1-day trip to Toronto on May 6. The trip's financing is being arranged through the school's PTA.

Belleville hits record for fires during 1974

The Belleville Fire Department has reported a record number of fires in the city during the 1974 year.

Fire Chief Anthony Talaga in his yearly report on Fire Department operations disclosed that the city had 26 fires which caused damage in the amount of $55,950.

Last year's fire runs hit a record high. In 1973, the Fire Department handled less than 20 fire runs and about 12 fire runs the year before.

The highest amount of fire damage for 1974 was reported in the month of February when damage reached $19,300 followed by $14,500 in August. The annual report also showed one death due to fire.

At a recent session of the City Council, Chief Talaga was authorized to hire three new volunteer fire fighters for day shift operations.

The new firemen will not increase the present Fire Department's personnel roster but will replace those who leave the department.

The additional firemen will amount to an increase of $300 to $350 based on the city's current fire fighting operations.

The fire chief also was given the authority to create officer positions in the department.

Chief Talaga told the council the Fire Department's personnel has not been increased in more than 22 years although the city's population has more than doubled.

To serve 10 homes

Trustees give nod to sewer line extension

An additional sewer line extension project to serve homes in the southern section of Van Buren Township has received the approval of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

The sewer project currently will serve 10 or more homes. It will consist of 5,300 feet of a 12-inch water main on Sumpter Road between Hull Bemis roads. The cost of the project is reported to be $145,000 plus engineering and legal fees.

The township's Water and Sewer Commission recommended the project at its Jan. 6 meeting and suggested the sewer project be added on to the $4,600,000 bond issue recently approved by the township trustees to finance several sewer and water projects in the township.

Township Attorney John Axe told the trustees that to add the Sumpter Road project to the bond issue would require an amendment to the bond issue agreement which would delay the project for several months.

The township is accepting bid proposals on the bond issue in February. The trustees have decided to advertise for separate bids for the Sumpter Road job.

Residents in the area to be served by the new sewer project have been complaining of muddy water.

The township trustees also approved the back payment of a back bill involving the installation of a sewer on Haggerty Road in the vicinity of the Van Buren Estates Subdivision four years ago.

The builder of the sewer project was requested to put in a larger sewer than initially planned by the builder to meet future growth in the area.

The township agreed to pay the builder for the difference in sewer's size but only for materials.

The builder requested payment of $21,000 for the work involved including labor and material. The township board approved payment of $7,616 in settling the matter.

In another matter involving the installation of water and sewer lines in the township, the trustees approved a recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission that the township pay only for new lift stations but not for the lift stations already installed.

The Wayne County Road Commission was requesting a $25 filing fee for each lift station in the township.

Township Engineer Morris Levine of Morris Levine & Associates of Detroit, told the trustees that the Road Commission had approved existing lift stations regarding sewer lines in the township.

Building permit fees to rise

Building permit fees in Sumpter Township are going to cost approximately 50 per cent more beginning Feb. 11.

An increase in the current schedule of building permit fees unanimously was approved recently by the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees.

The trustees also approved an increase in the square foot living space requirements in the construction of single-family homes in the township from 750 square feet to 900 square feet.

Building Inspector James Clark said the fee rate boost was requested to bring the township's building permit fee rates to the level of those in surrounding and adjacent communities.

The new hikes amount to approximately 50 per cent over previous fee rates, Clark added.

Under the new fee schedule, building permit fees now range from $5 per square foot for a residential detached garage of brick construction to $13.50 per square foot for a residential home with basement and attached garage.

In computing the evaluation for determining the building permit fee, Clark said it is arrived at by taking the square feet of proposed construction project and multiplying it by the scheduled permit fee.

In addition, $10 for the first $1,000 of the project's valuation plus $4 for each additional $1,000 valuation or major fraction is to be included in the total building permit fee payment.

A schedule of the new changes on the issuance of building permit fees is published elsewhere in this edition.

Postal subs sought

Applications now are available for substitute mail carriers in New Boston. Postmaster Donald L. England currently is accepting applications at the post office at 37060 Huron River Drive.

Applicants for the job must take a written vocabulary, reading comprehension and mathematics test which, along with filling out the application form, takes approximately three hours and 45 minutes, England said.

Anyone selected for employment must have a valid Michigan driver's license and safe driving record, and also must take a road test in his or her own car.

Substitute mail carriers must furnish their own car, but are given an equipment maintenance allowance based on their daily mileage schedule or a minimum allowance per day, whichever is greater, England added.

For further information call PL 3-9124.

'Super' plans begin

An exciting new recreation program will begin in Romulus on Feb. 1, according to Bill Smith, community school director for the Romulus Community School District.

The name of the program will be "Super Saturday" and its organization represents a joint effort by Romulus city recreation and Romulus community education to provide recreation for youth in grades kindergarten through six.

Activities are scheduled at Romulus Senior High School and school bus transportation will be arranged for city residents, Smith said. The program will run for eight Saturdays and meet from 1-3 p.m. each week.

An unusual aspect of Super Saturday will be its wide variety of activities. Some of the activities include Hot Wheels, an auto mechanics program; Candid Camera; the Sound of Music; Animal Kingdom and the Wide World of Sports.

Registration forms are available at each elementary school in Romulus and at the Romulus Recreation Department offices located across from Romulus Post Office at 11189 Shook Road.

The cost for Super Saturday will be $5 for the entire 8-week program.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Romulus Community Education at 941-1600, ext. 37.

Romulus could get federal grant

Romulus is in line for $216,934 more in federal grant money to go toward the hiring of unemployed residents of the city.

The money, under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) Title 6 program recently signed into law by President Ford, is coming to Romulus in addition to thousands of dollars received several months ago for similar employment programs also under CETA.

Romulus' Title 6 money is part of $2.5 billion being distributed throughout the country.

According to 20th District Wayne County Commissioner Tom F. Taylor, chairman of the county's Human Resource Committee, the money is meant to go toward hiring people for public service jobs.

One of the few differences between this program and the earlier Title 1 and 2 programs under CETA is employee requirements. Under the previous programs, applicants must have been unemployed at least 30 days to qualify for a job. Under Title 6, they need be unemployed only 15 days.

According to Mayor Terry L. Troutt, the city probably will hire persons for clean-up.

Students build sheds

The building trades classes at Romulus Senior High School are back at constructing storage sheds.

During the 1973-74 school year, building trades students called the storage units "little red barns," but this year the 14 barns under construction are showing signs of green and white as well as red.

After their completion, the storage barns will be delivered to those people in the community who purchased one of these class projects. Interested persons are requested to call the high school at 941-2170.

The building trades program at the high school is a 2-year program. Besides building storage sheds, the building trades "I" class also works at rough and finish carpentry, plumbing, electricity, masonry, dry wall, painting and similar jobs.

Building trades "I" students have remodeled a classroom for the school and in the spring they again are going to build two garages.

The building trades "II" class has a house under construction on Ozga Road in Romulus. This home is a ranch-style structure with a full basement, attached 2-car garage and a fireplace.

EASLEY DOES IT — Having a ball and a basket is Belleville's junior pivotman Dennis Easley (14) who drives up and over two land-bound Allen Park cagers to drop in two of his 22 points that helped the Tigers throttle the Jaguars 67-44 Friday night and put Coach Tom Niemi's quintet back in the title picture.

Tigers throttle Allen Park

Belleville is back in race

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor
Hold on to your hats, folks, it's going to be a barnburner, as the saying and cliché goes.

The Suburban 8 Conference basketball title race has taken a turn in Belleville's favor as Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers have suddenly come into reach of the front runners thanks to Belleville's lopsided 67-44 victory over Allen Park and a couple of upsets, including Dearborn's first loss. BELLEVILLE (4-2) is now one-game out of first, presently held by once-defeated Plymouth Salem (5-1) and Dearborn.

"We're right back in contention," said the Niemi whose team has become the hottest item in the area. "But we have a lot of work ahead of us and it isn't a time to relax."

Allen Park took the initiative in the first period Friday and built up a 10-4 lead before Belleville's Dennis Easley went to work. Easley scored 10 of his 22 points in that period, picked up six in the next frame to stake his teammates to 18-16 and 36-24 leads for the first two periods.

ALLEN PARK tried desperately to get back in the ball game in the third period but was unsuccessful as the Tigers held leads of 20 and 25 throughout most of the remainder of the game.

"We played an outstanding basketball game," said Niemi, "and there was excellent passing by Walt and Dennis Easley and Mel Abraham."

"I truly feel we are improving with each game," the Tiger mentor added.

Easley's 22 points stood up as the game's high. Brother Walt chipped in 14 and Mel Abraham pumped in 15. Allen Park's Phil Beyer, who sank eight baskets, was the only Jaguar player to reach double figures.

THOUGH the game was a physical one, neither team saw much activity at the free throw line. Allen Park never

Abbott captures mat title

If there is a stronger wrestling team in the state this season than Wayne Memorial, then it hasn't shown its face.

Wayne's top-ranked Class A contingent crushed 11 other highly-touted prep mat squads Saturday to capture the prestigious Walled Lake Central Wrestling Invitational championship for the second straight year.

Coach Don Haney's grapplers, undefeated in tournament as well as dual meet competition this year, took four first places—Paul Goosby (107), Mark Ellis (121), Larry Michalik (128) and Bob Colaianni (140) and had a runnerup in the 187-pound class with Sid Parr, while finishing third with Gary Pate (114), Doug Cunningham (147) and Kevin Rize.

WAYNE'S 100-pounder Kevin Tracy and heavyweight Kevin Wilson earned fourth place medals.

"A job well done," said Haney of his unbeaten Zebras. "The kids were really ready for this one."

Goosby, who is nearing his 100th dual meet victory—the first grappler in Wayne history to ever reach the century mark, pinned Swat Creek's Brian Jory in 1:22 to win the gold medal and also post his 95th career triumph.

ROMULUS' Ed Abbott earned two trophies. He finished first in the duel of the heavyweights by stopping Swat Creek's Dave Hart in 3:28. He completed the tournament with three victories via falls for an elapsed time of 6:37.

That gave Abbott the Most Pins Award, beating Wayne's Rize, who also had three pins (6:45) for the honor. Romulus also had two other medalists in Lamar Sandusky who finished in second to Rochester Adams' Dave Miles in the 114 pound class.

Miles won on a forfeit. Romulus' Ivory Allen placed fourth in the 121 pound class, rounding out rookie Coach Avern Logan's medalists.

HISTORICAL VICTORY — When Huron's Bill Grover (white uniform) pinned Wyandotte's John Lloyd in 1:41 last Saturday at the Riverview Wrestling Invitational, the senior heavyweight became the first grappler in the New

Boston high school's history to ever post 100 career wins on the mats. "Only a few prep wrestlers ever have the distinction of accomplishing what Bill has," said Coach Jim Rossow, "he's truly a great wrestler and an outstanding kid."

South's rookies storm past Marshall, 50-26

A South Junior High line up composed almost entirely of rookies swam over Marshall, 50-26, last week.

"We had most of our to-line kids sit down for the meet," said Coach John Stosick. "Our first year swimmers need a meet like this to gain experience."

LEADING the way was triple winner Chris Renton.

Taking first place in the 50-yard butterfly with a 31.4 and swimming his best split ever at 1:05.8 as part of the winning 400 freestyle relay, Chris also swam in the 200-medley relay.

Double winners included Tim Frey, Lloyd Dubisky and Norm MacDermid. Tim went his best time in the 200-free, 2:28.3, while Lloyd split a 35.7 in the backstroke of the medley relay.

Airport awaits sagging Huron

A lot of things have changed since New Boston Huron and first year coach Lee Goodney last played Airport. The first time around the Chiefs beat their league rivals, 59-45, and that was Huron's first and only league win of the season.

Goodney would like to snap his team's five-game league losing streak Friday night.

BUT AIRPORT has the homecourt advantage and has improved since their first encounter, going on to win two of their last six starts.

"We're not getting the offense we need," said Goodney whose team was held to 48 points in a 68-48 loss to title hopeful, Tecumseh (5-2) last Friday.

Tigers back in race got into the "bonus" situation while Belleville canned three of nine offerings.

Belleville was scheduled to meet Trenton last night and will return home Friday to face a tall Redford Union quintet.

The first time around the Tigers turned back RU, 64-50. But Niemi doesn't see a victory coming that easy.

"R.U. is an extremely tall team that can intimidate you with its height," said the Belleville coach, "and that poses a problem because we can't match them."

"Our backs are to the wall," continued Niemi,

"and we can't afford any losses, so our destiny is in our own hands now."

Belleville swimmers stay perfect in league

Sometimes a disqualification may act as a catalyst to stir a swimming team to give just a little more the rest of the way.

And that's what Belleville swim coach Sam Vicchy feels happens to his team last Thursday against Allen Park. The Tigers' medley relay team touched in first but was disqualified.

However, Belleville roared back to give the Suburban 8 Conference meet 51-32.

"OUR MEDLEY team was disqualified," said Vicchy, "so our kids knew they had to swim well the rest of the way. And they did."

If they swam a solid meet because they realized they couldn't afford another slip."

The victory provided Belleville its second league triumph in as many starts and also padded its over-all record to 8-1 on the year.

"We were delighted to beat them because we hadn't posted a victory against them in the past two years," added Vicchy.

Belleville claimed seven first places, leaving four to the Jaguars.

The Tigers will host Trenton tomorrow in hopes of making it three straight in the league.

NOT THIS TIME — Huron's Dave Blount (30) finds a Tecumseh players' outstretched arm blocking his path to the basket and has trouble hitting the target. Blount and the Chiefs were off target Friday night, losing their sixth conference game to the second place Tecumseh quintet, 68-48. The Chiefs are back in action tonight at Airport, the only team the New Boston cagers have beaten thus far this season in the league.

Wayne State grid clinic set

Dick Lowry, Wayne State University Head Football Coach, announced this week the scheduling of Wayne State's First Annual Football Clinic Saturday, Feb. 15, in WSU's General Lectures Hall.

The day-long WSU Clinic will feature six top metropolitan high school coaches and is designed to appeal to coaches at levels from high school varsity and junior varsity programs through junior high, grade school, CYO and midget leagues according to Lowry.

Running a football clinic is nothing new to the WSU coach who in his first Tartar season led WSU to a 7-3 season with a season-ending three-game win streak. He's had 10 years experience in directing top-notch clinics including three as Director of the Cleveland Football Coaches Association and also helped stage grid clinics each of his three years as a staff member at the University of Akron.

ON LOWRY'S First WSU Clinic Staff will be Don Lessner (Riverside HS), "The Riverview Passing Game"; Ken Semelsberger (Detroit-Servite HS), "Multiple Sets"; Roy Allen (Detroit-Northwestern HS), "Defensive Philosophy"; Walt Wyniemo (Madison Hts.-Bishop Foley HS), "Off-Season Programs"; George Lovich (Livonia-Franklin), "Computer Scouting"; and Bob Redlinski (Sterling Heights HS), "The Pro-I".

The WSU Clinic will have an 8:15-8:55 a.m. Registration and run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a lunch break at noon and door prize drawing at the end of the day. Pre-registration is $4 with registration at the door set for $5. The registration fee includes the program, coffee and doughnuts in the morning, lunch and door prizes. Checks should be mailed to Lowry at WSU. Further information is available at 577-4288.
